Objective and purpose of the Complaints Policy

Fairtrade Australia & New Zealand (Fairtrade ANZ) recognises the importance of and value of listening and responding to concerns and complaints. We are committed to achieving the highest standard we can in every area of our work and to continuous improvement. Fairtrade ANZ is committed to working according to, or above, the standard required by the Code of Conduct of the Australian Council for International Development (ACFID) and the NZ Council for International Development (CID). Fairtrade ANZ is also committed to maintaining its responsiveness to the needs and concerns of its licensees, the public and the producers it supports.

This Policy is designed to provide guidance on the manner in which Fairtrade ANZ receives and handles complaints made against the organization and its employees. The objective of the Policy is to assist the organization and employees in resolving complaints in an efficient, effective and professional manner.

This policy applies to all our people - employees and volunteers – and they are familiarised with it. Those with particular relevant responsibilities are trained in its application. We make clear the value we place on receiving concerns and complaints in all relevant communications. We advise how a copy of this policy may be obtained and we provide clear information on how complaints may be made.

Who does this Policy apply to?

This Policy is intended to apply to any complaint, or whistleblowing allegations, regardless of who makes it.

We will accept complaints, or allegations, relating to our paid staff, volunteers, partners, contracted service providers or anyone else acting on our behalf.

Any person may make a complaint, or allege illegal or unethical behaviour. Complaints and whistleblowing may be made anonymously, however our ability to investigate anonymous complaints may be limited due to the nature of the reporting.

What is a complaint?

The Policy is intended to address complaints made to Fairtrade ANZ. A complaint under this Policy is defined as an expression of dissatisfaction made to the organization, related to its services, or the complaints-handling process itself, where a response or resolution is explicitly or implicitly expected.

Any person or organization (the complainant) who is dissatisfied with a service provided by the organization may contact Fairtrade ANZ to complain. At times, complaints can be by way of negative feedback, which may not require a resolution or formal follow-up. While this type of feedback is valuable to the organization, the Policy does not apply to feedback of this nature.

A complaint can include a Whistleblowing disclosure, which relates to the reporting of suspected or actual misconduct including illegal or unethical behaviour. Whistleblowing disclosures are protected under Fairtrade ANZ’s Whistleblowing Protection Policy as well as under New Zealand and Australian laws.

Handling a complaint

1. How a complaint may be made

   Where a complaint is about a particular engagement, service, partner or employee and the complainant is familiar with the team working on the relevant matter, the complainant should address his/her complaint to the manager of that team. The complaint should be made in writing and provided by hand, email or post. Where possible complaints should be made in writing so that the details of the complaint are clear and complete.

   Verbal complaints can be made to a Fairtrade ANZ representative who is then responsible for completing a written complaint as above. Farmers may contact their representatives within their Association to make a complaint to Fairtrade ANZ on their behalf.
If the complainant is not sure who to address the complaint to, or if the complainant feels it is inappropriate to address the complaint to a particular person, the complaint can be addressed to:

In Australia:

Alternatively the complaint can be addressed to the Chair of the Board, as follows:
Private & Confidential
John Buttle
Chair of Fairtrade ANZ
Phone: +61(0)424 139 266
E-Mail: john.buttle@capitalc.us

2. How unethical behavior can be reported

As with the complaints handling procedure above, a whistleblower can report on illegal or unethical behavior regarding a particular engagement, service, partner or employee, to the appropriate manager of the team, the CEO or the Chair. The information should be provided in writing, however verbal information may be provided to a Fairtrade ANZ representative who will then complete the written process. Farmers may make a verbal or written submission to their Association representative, or higher member, to represent them to Fairtrade ANZ.

If the direct manager is not appropriate given the nature of the reporting, the information can be given to a person in a higher position, up to the Chief Executive Officer or Chair, as above.

Further information regarding how a Whistleblowing disclosure can be made, how it will be investigated and the protections afforded to a Whistleblower are set out in Fairtrade ANZ’s Whistleblowing Protection Policy.

3. Further contact Information

As Fairtrade ANZ does not have a permanent office in the countries where some of Fairtrade ANZ's work is carried out, complaints arising from these countries should be made to either the Australian or New Zealand contacts identified above when a local representative is not available.

Fairtrade ANZ is an active member of the Australian Council for International Development (ACFID) and the New Zealand Council for International Development (CID) and adheres to both the ACFID Code of Conduct and the CID Code of Conduct. These Codes of Conduct define the minimum standards of governance, management and accountability of development for members of non-governmental organisations.

Complaints regarding breaches of the ACFID Code of Conduct can be made to the ACFID Code of Conduct Committee. For information on the ACFID Code of Conduct and how to make a complaint, see the ACFID website: www.acfid.asn.au.

- We will acknowledge all written complaints within 2 days of receipt

- Your complaint or allegation will be assigned to a relevant staff member (or depending on the nature and seriousness of the complaint, a Board member) for investigation. For example, if it relates to an issue of product certification, a member of the Licensing and Certification Team will conduct the review. If it relates to a disagreement about provisions in the Licensing Agreement, it will be reviewed by our legal officer. Any person with a conflict of interest in relation to the complaint shall be excluded from the review and decision making process.

- Each complaint or allegation (other than those determined by the relevant staff member to be frivolous or vexatious) will be investigated. The person handling the complaint will make reasonable effort to:

Assistance with making a complaint or allegation

If you need assistance in formulating or lodging a complaint or allegation, please contact any member of Fairtrade. If this is not appropriate, please contact the Chief Executive Officer (contact details as above). In particular a member of staff can assist you to identify the information which should be provided to establish the facts of the complaint or allegation and identify the outcome you are seeking in relation to the complaint or allegation.

Further action

If you are a licensee or certified trader and the matter comes within the terms of the License Agreement or the Certification Agreement, please refer to the dispute resolution clause in the Licensing Agreement if you are dissatisfied with the response from Fairtrade.

For other matters, if you are dissatisfied with the manner in which your complaint has been handled, you have a right to refer the matter to:

While you are free to use these methods at any time, we strongly recommend you use Fairtrade ANZ’s internal review mechanisms before seeking independent assistance.

You may also make a complaint to Fairtrade International (www.fairtrade.net). Fairtrade International is the owner of the Fairtrade Standards, and is responsible for their development. Fairtrade ANZ is responsible for the licensing and assurance activities within Australia and New Zealand, and is a member of the Fairtrade network internationally.

You may also make a complaint to ACFID (www.acfid.asn.au) in Australia or CID in New Zealand if your complaint is in relation to a breach of the ACFID or CID Code of Conduct.

Timeframes

We aim to resolve complaints and allegations as quickly as possible and within 30 days unless there are exceptional circumstances. If a complaint or allegation is not able to be resolved within 30 days we will inform the complainant of progress and keep them informed of progress every two weeks.

External reviews will have their own timeframes.

Our quality controls

A register of complaints will be kept. Complaints will be analysed by the Chief Executive Officer for the identification of systemic or recurring problems. If such problems are identified, the organization will consider what actions it may need to take to address these problems.

The complaints handling and whistleblowing process will be reviewed periodically to enhance its delivery of efficient and effective outcomes. This review will be performed by the Chief Executive Officer or an appropriate appointee. The organization will consider what actions it may need to take to address any deficiencies identified in the review.

Where appropriate, issues that arise as a result of the complaints handling process may be incorporated in the process for monitoring and evaluating employee performance.
Potential outcomes following an allegation of illegal or unethical behavior

Following a robust investigation into the allegation there may be a range of potential outcomes. If the illegal or unethical behavior relates to an individual, they will be subject to appropriate disciplinary procedures up to and including dismissal from the organization.

If the alleged wrongdoing is found to involve multiple individuals and imply a procedural failing, the individuals will face disciplinary action and the Board will be alerted to the institutional failing. Further investigation will be taken as necessary to identify the points of failure and construct mechanisms to prevent a recurrence.
